Why Me?

I'm a driven UX/Interaction Designer with over 5 years of professional experience and a tenacity to see from the top-down but build from the ground-up. I've worked on various collaborative design projects covering a wide range of UX and Interaction Design methods on both software and hardware platforms. I'm proficient in various design tools, research methodologies, programming languages, and video production processes. I am passionate about UX Design and have a particular interest in developing a positive emotional connection between the user and the systems they interact with.
